Name Made Famous

In the early days in this country schoolhouses were small and usually painted red. It is explained that red paint was especially cheap. So many men and women who ultimately attained distinction began their education under these modest conditions and later delighted to pay honor to "the little red schoolhouse" that now the phrase has become a figure of speech.

Denver, Colo. Establishment of "key" homes over the country, through which home makers may receive expert advice on any problem, is the objective of Mrs. John D. Sherman of Estes Park, Colo. She is in charge of a division of the General Federation of Women's Clubs seeking to make things easier for the home maker. One key home has been established.

New Paltz

New Paltz, Jan. 21—The new radio in the Normal School auditorium has made it possible for the music classes of the school from the grades through the Normal Department to listen in to the educational concert program broadcast every Friday from New York city. The concert is under direct charge of Walter Damrosch and is especially arranged and adapted for music classes. From 11 a. m. to 11:30 a. m. it is designed to fit the needs of the grammar grades and from 11:30 a. m. to 12 m. the program is on a higher grade suitable to high school work. The program has awakened and revived a new and keener interest in music in the school. To the pupil it has been a welcome change, to the teacher it has opened a new method of interesting the pupil in music and its just appreciation.

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

(By The Associated Press.)
New York—Prince Cyrille of Bulgaria, brother of King Boris, is visiting us as plain "Mr. Cyril Sokolowski." Single and 22, he denies that he is serving a bride; he purposes to study automobile plants and see the scenic beauty of Florida, the Grand Canyon and Yellowstone Park.

Hempstead, N. Y.—"It's the first time I ever talked to a princess," remarked a policeman on examining the license of a young lady who had parked overtime. "And it's the first time I ever talked to a policeman," replied Mrs. W. B. Leeds. A $10 fine is in the offing, apparently.

Madrid—Other hands may rock the cradle. Senorita Pilar Cerezo, daughter of the Count of Cadagua, has dedicated hers to the control of locomotives. Having qualified as an engineer she has been appointed engineering chief of the Northern Railway.

Belgrade—Cups that cheer are taboo under the new order of affairs in government. No longer shall business be done over coffee. Drunkenness on duty will result in severe punishment.

New York—John Buggy was in court because he had given his wife only five cents a day since New Year's. After remarks by the court and reflection, he paid her $100 and agreed to raise the 35 cents a week to $16. Magistrate Gutlieb had called him "the meanest Scotchman in the world."

Friedrichshafen—Around the world by Zeppelin! The route of a flight planned for next summer is Siberia, Tokyo, California, Lakehurst, N. J., and Europe.

New York—In Sing Sing his $242 was safe, but it was gobbled up by crooks in New York. Herman Muller, looking over the town just after his release from prison, lost his roll and complained to the police. He said the money was an accumulation of tips from undertakers visiting the execution chamber, where he was an orderly.

New York—A building 110 stories high is seriously contemplated in this city, says William A. Starrett, builder, and there is no physical reason why even taller ones should not be built. He regards the skyscraper as the greatest contribution to modern art and as beneficial to the whole social structure, instead of being a menace to health, as some authorities view it.

World's Dark Ages

Historians differ as to the exact period known as the Dark ages. It is generally believed to comprise the earlier centuries of the Middle ages, a period of probably about 700 years. Hallam regards the Dark ages as beginning with the Sixth century and ending with the Fifteenth.

Compensation Awards Made

Barney Koslowski of 163 Murray street, Kingston, was given an award that totaled $2,915 on Saturday by Referee L. A. Kilburn at the court house here. Koslowski had been employed by the Central Hudson Steamboat Company, with headquarters at Newburgh. The award was given because of loss of 85 per cent of use of left foot for a long period, the injury growing out of his employment.

James Norton, 214 Greenhill avenue, Kingston, employer, Blauwater Lake Ice Co., 26 South Pine street, was awarded $840.19 having lost 20 per cent use of left leg. Salvatore DiBello, R. F. 4, Kingston, employer Brigham Bros. for 85 per cent loss of use of left thumb was given an award of $591.35.

J. W. Myers, 231 East Chester street, employer L. H. Swenson Co., Inc., 25 Market street, Poughkeepsie, received an award of $210.

There Came the Clock

When the five in an apartment house one neighbor about letting the alarm clock ring out its clatter call on the early morning air. Snap a heavy rubber band around the sides and the bell of the clock. It will muffle the bell enough to prevent its annoying anyone but the person it is meant to annoy.

Sitting Off a Lot

"Sometimes," said Uncle Eben, "it looks to me like the smallest minds are ready for the biggest arguments."

Canary Bird Chief

Witness in Court

Scramburg.—A little yellow canary bird was the chief witness in a recent divorce trial here.

The husband declared that his wife habitually beat him but the latter denied the charge. The man then said he could prove it by the canary who always knew when a storm was brewing.

"My bird knew when I was going to be beaten up," he said, "and always flew about its cage trying to get out to help me."

The canary was then brought in and the wife, upon the judge's orders, pretended she was going to strike her husband. The bird went wild with excitement, flying against the bars with such violence that half of its feathers were lost and he became greatly entangled in the wires.

The wife then confessed to her weakness and the husband was granted freedom.

Court Decides Against Girl Suing for Wages.

Berlin.—Here is a story that will be read with mixed emotions, depending upon the reader, his views, and what he does not want to view, or possibly is afraid to view.

The difficulties that still beset the path of ardent sun bathers in Germany, despite official support of the movement, were revealed in a Berlin law court when Fraulein Editha Pump, a housekeeper, and one of the 60,000 members of the National Nakedness association, sued her employer for wrongful dismissal and two months' wages.

Herr Albert Salz, a sixty-year-old Berlin business man, explained in his evidence that he had engaged Fraulein Editha to act as housekeeper in his home during the temporary absence of his wife in a nursing home.

Fraulein Editha, he said, had been working extremely well until one morning she astonished him by appearing in extremely scanty costume to serve him his breakfast. She declared in answer to his protests that she had been having a sun bath in the garden, and had not had time to put on all her clothes before attending to him.

Herr Salz thought her conduct strange, but determined to say nothing about the matter. When, however, he found the housekeeper's devotion to the September sun was such that she was forced to appear in nothing but a pair of running shorts at lunch, he spoke severely to her, and Fraulein Editha promised to do her work in the future in a more European costume. The next morning, however, Herr Salz's call for breakfast surprised her once more in the paradisaical garb of the "Friends of Light and Nature."

Herr Salz dismissed her on the spot, and the court decided that Herr Salz was justified.

Now those who did not attend the trial are asking: What sort of a looking girl was Editha?

Winning Sports Frock for Southern Resorts

Here is a pretty sports frock for the Southern winter resorts, and which promises to be in the limelight for spring and summer wear. This simple printed dress is ideal for tennis, but was designed especially for the increasingly popular sport of archery.

Satin Backing for Lace Is Being Brought Back

Years ago all lace was backed with satin or taffeta and the two were cut into as into one thickness of material. Now Nicole Groult has revived that practice. Other designers when desiring a stiffened lace surface for some particular effect—as Redfern desired a stiffened circular peplum on an otherwise straight frock he offered of tinsel-red lace—have turned to neutral-tinted haircloth invisible through the meshes of the lace. But Groult stiffens her circular flounces and peplums with heavy silk, which may or may not portend a return of an amusing but cumbersome method.

Lace and chiffon or lace and georgette, with the lace acting as the body of the gown and the other material as the borders, or vice versa, have become quite customary.

Women of Paris Ignore Shaded, Fishnet Hosiery

Parisian women apparently have decided to have nothing to do with shaded stockings—the kind that are unevenly dyed so that the front may be light and the back a deeper shade, or the ankle a pale pink and the calf and knee a bluish rose.

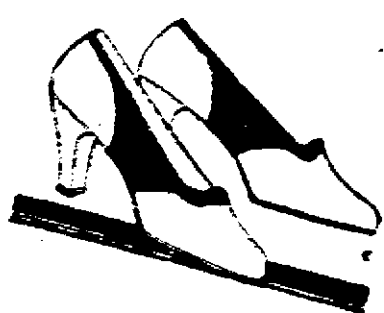

The same women have turned their backs on fishnet hosiery and hand-painted or hand-embroidered silk stockings. Most of the stockings worn here are in deep beige shades for day costumes and flesh or sunburn tints for evening.

COPY

ADVERTISING is Salesmanship in Printed Form. When you select your store salesmen you insist upon men who can do more than merely show goods. You want them to be able to present sales arguments in such forceful and effective form as to bring the patron to a decision of purchase. You should demand the same efficiency from your printed salesmanship—copy composed and merchandised by experts in selling; in making copy interesting, forceful, persuasive.

Our PERSONAL SERVICE BUREAU offers you its services, free of all cost in preparing your copy or your complete campaign.

Skirt Short in Front, Extremely Long in Back

A charming frock for evening is made of black taffeta and has a wide skirt which is short in front and extremely long in back. The skirt is lined with gold colored silk, and a little petticoat of gold lace, a trifle longer than the skirt, is placed under it. Over the shoulders, instead of straps, are bands of gold colored beads, and these form an ornament upon the right side of the waist.

Sweater Coats Useful Addition to Wardrobe

The sweater coat is a useful addition to any woman's wardrobe, winter or summer. For sports wear it is particularly useful, and one included in the college girl's trunkful of clothes will draw down blessings on your head during the entire year.

One sweater coat is made of pink wool, with big, fluffy collar and cuffs. It is worn over a pink and blue flannel vestie suit for outdoor events.

Gray Suits, Fox Scarfs Favorite Mode in Paris

Not enough furs are alive to furnish the fox scarfs seen on the Paris boulevards. A resident of Paris without a gray suit and a fox scarf must feel like a warrior without a compass. The skins, even those worn by the wealthy, do not compare favorably with those seen in Canada and the United States and are very expensive.

About all that a husband knows about shopping is to get a pink one or a blue one.

Not Alone After herculean efforts against temptation the warbler once again found himself listening to yet another sentence to prison.

The magistrate knew the prisoner of old and admonished him thus: "If, as you say, you want to live happily in this world, you must keep straight. Now, do you understand?" The prisoner frowned and had to admit that he was puzzled.

"I am afraid I don't, your worship," he said doubtfully. "But if you'll tell me how a man is to keep straight while he is trying to make both ends meet, I might."—London Answers.

The Scottish Race

The Scots did not originate in Ireland, but the tribe that supplied the name Scotland did.

Like all the other inhabitants of Europe, the Scots are a mixed race. When the Roman General Agricola invaded Scotland in 78 A. D. he found tribes with varied dialects, some probably speaking Gaelic and others Celtic, the speech of the Britons. He called them all Caledonians.

The Scots came in when Rome withdrew her legions in 410 A. D. They were a tribe from Ireland who conquered a lot of territory and gave the nation its name.

Through a Glass Darkly

I have read of a glass kept in an idol temple in Siam that would make beautiful things appear deformed, and deformed things appear beautiful; carnal sense is such a glass to wicked men. It makes heavenly things which are beautiful to appear deformed, and earthly things which are deformed to appear beautiful.—Ohio State Journal.

Prickly Pear's Enemy

In another ten years, according to experts, the prickly pear will not be a serious problem in Queensland (Australia), where the prickly pear areas comprise the 60,000 acres. If the little caterpillar named Cartoonia continues to progress in the way it has done in the past, through its efforts the spread of pear has been definitely stopped.

Negro Dialects

"Lost Spirituals" explains that there are two separate and well defined negro dialects in Charleston. One is the Gullah tongue, spoken by negroes from the West coast of Africa and their descendants; the other, the speech of negroes brought into South Carolina from other colonies and later from other states. These dialects are gradually becoming merged.

KINGSTON, N. Y., JAN. 21, 1929.

WATERSHEDS

The decision of the United States Supreme Court in the Chicago Water Commission case is important to the water country. It affects directly many states bordering on the Mississippi River and the Great Lakes and their tributaries. It affects navigation throughout the two greatest waterways in the United States. Indirectly, it affects water rights in many states.

Chicago, which has been diverting 8,000 cubic feet of water per second from Lake Michigan, to flush its drainage canal into the Mississippi, and to provide water for navigation and hydro-electric power, will have to reduce its diversion to about one-tenth of that quantity. Thus the lowered levels of the Great Lakes will be restored. Chicago must pay her own sanitary bills, taking care of her sewage by filtration plants. She will lose waterpower taken from the Great Lakes. She will be allowed only enough Lake Michigan water to take care of navigation in a channel of moderate depth, connecting the Great Lakes with the Mississippi system.

There seems to be nothing in this decision to interfere with the development of navigation of the Mississippi according to plans of broad scope laid to be favored by Mr. Hoover. That is fortunate. The country will need all the navigable waterways it can create and maintain.

Chicago's sanitary burdens, however, become her own local problem again.

A vital water problem seems definitely settled. Every section of the country will take notice that it cannot divert water in quantity from one important watershed to another.

Canada, which has a big stake in this case, will be reassured and will cooperate more readily with the United States in waterway matters.

INCOME TAX REDUCTION

The unexpected expectation, so to speak, of a federal surplus amounting to nearly $300,000,000 for the fiscal year ending June 30, has started talk of further federal tax reduction. Secretary Mellon is said to favor such action. If the incoming President is agreed, there will be few objectors.

A 1929 income tax cut on top of last year's cut would make everybody feel good, and enable the government to give a boost to groups of taxpayers who benefited little or none the last time.

There is immediately a natural demand for further lowering of the corporation tax, whose reduction from 12 1/2 to 12 percent a year ago made little apparent difference either to the corporations or the government. That would be a fine tonic for business, and would probably not meet much objection even though business in general can hardly be said to be perishing for a tonic.

Another natural suggestion is the wiping out of the federal estate tax. This may be opposed by "radicals" as a favor to the rich. But it will be upheld by many economists as a desirable thing, because it would leave this field of taxation exclusively for the states, which need it more than Uncle Sam does. The present system in many cases imposes double estate taxation because of the overlapping of federal and state jurisdiction.

As for personal income tax reductions, the lower surtax brackets might be pared down a little.

IMPORTED NUISANCES

Lame Ducks are not the only birds that trouble the national capital. It is reported that great flocks of starlings have descended upon the city, all set to spend the winter. They are occupying every available tree and building in the business district. They seek their food in nearby counties in Maryland and Virginia, but they come home to roost in Washington.

The starling is not a particularly attractive bird. It doesn't sing with charm or grace. Yet it is probably undesirable only because it insists on turning.

hanging around in such great numbers, that they often fill the streets, and are a nuisance to the public. The starling, like the English sparrow, was deliberately imported from Europe. It made the mistake of being too adaptable and being too much at home.

Now, in many communities, as in Washington, the starlings are fought with air rifles, shot guns, poison and other weapons. In spite of this warfare against them, they continue to increase in numbers and are spreading to all the states east of the Mississippi.

We have no objection to making what should be done about the starlings, but we hope anybody who thinks of importing any more foreign birds will think at least twice before doing so.

It has finally been voted to reapportion the House membership in 1930—after twenty years, instead of after ten years as formerly, according to constitutional mandate. It was the prohibitionists' move to support—who managed to put off the evil day of increased urban representation, but the inevitable will have to be faced in 1930.

A new container for milk has arrived. The paper carton, cone-shaped, punched to the top, which is used once and then thrown away in it, we read, milk can be kept fresh, sweet and usable for five weeks, and the rate of bacterial growth is surprisingly slower than in glass bottles—which is what would hardly be expected.

USING DRUGS DANGEROUS.

The knowledge of the use of certain drugs is now so common that it is not unusual for families to buy supplies such as aspirin, paracetamol, castor oil, and opium salts, as they would groceries or fruit.

That occasions arise for the use of these is only too true, but these very simple drugs can prove very dangerous under certain conditions.

For instance you may feel a little sick at the stomach, in fact may vomit, with pain right in the pit of the stomach.

Now these folk with a supply of medicine on hand may do one of two things. Either take some aspirin or paracetamol to ease the pain, or take some castor oil or opium salts to get rid of whatever is irritating the stomach or intestine.

Easing or quieting the pain, which may be due to appendicitis, by the use of either aspirin or paracetamol, will permit the inflammation to become so serious that when the operation is performed the appendix may have burst, gangrene set in, and the operation be too late.

And so also with the use of a purgative such as castor oil or opium salts. Should the trouble be appendicitis, the use of a purgative very frequently ruptures the appendix, and is the cause of many deaths.

If you get a pain in stomach and it seems to shift around from place to place, sometimes easing up almost entirely, then it is likely due to gas, and will not cause any temperature or any pain or pressure.

However if the pain starts at stomach and gradually goes down to the lower right side of abdomen and stays there, with tenderness on pressure over the spot, and hardening of the abdomen over the pain, and some temperature also, then it is likely appendicitis and there should be no delay in calling your doctor.

There is naturally the temptation to ease the pain or get rid of offending irritant, but an enema or injection is the most that should be given before the doctor arrives.

Remember then that drugs are dangerous in appendicitis, and abdominal pain is often due to appendicitis.

HOW

EXCLAMATION "BY JIMINY" MAY HAVE ORIGINATED.

Two theories have been advanced to account for the origin of the exclamation "Jiminy" in the case of a child oath, or an expletive of exclamation. One regards it as a corruption of "Jesus Christ," the Latin for "Lord Jesus." The other holds that it is a corruption of "Geminus," the plural of Latin "geminus," meaning twin. "Geminus" was applied in Roman mythology to Castor and Pollux, the twin sons of Jupiter and Leda. It is the name of a constellation and the third sign of the zodiac, which is represented by the twin gods, Castor and Pollux, sitting side by side. To say "By Castor and Pollux" or "By Geminus"—by the twins—was to use a powerful oath in ancient Rome. The word is still sometimes written "Geminus" and "Geminus." It may be, however, that "Jiminy" is of Teutonic origin, for it appears in various forms in German, Dutch and Scandinavian languages, and the oath and exclamation is generally used much more frequently by the people of those countries.—Exchange.

How Defect in Carbon Causes Light to Flare

The Niagara Falls Chamber of Commerce says that the lights which illuminate Niagara falls are operated with a carbon arc which is automatically fed throughout the period of lighting. The carbon is good for about two hours and a half. During perfect operation there is no flare in the lamp, the carbon being perfectly adjusted and its content being pure. Under such conditions there is an intensive arc which is reflected from mirrors and concentrated to establish the great amount of light given by one of these projectors. However, when the carbon is being fed toward the arc a slight imperfection or a small particle of foreign matter will cause a flare. This flare is only occasional. Probably there are few carbons that will not cause some flare, but the amount of flare seen depends upon the quality of the carbon used. With reference to the power of these lights, each unit ranges from 80,000 to 100,000 candlepower, depending upon the adjustment of the lights and the concentration of the rays. It is perfectly possible to step one of these lights up to 200,000,000 candlepower. The average amount of illumination which is secured from the entire battery is 1,440,000,000 candlepower.

How Old Egyptians Wrote

The papyrus of the Egyptians was made of strips of the fruit of the papyrus plant arranged in layers. These were arranged in long, rectangular sheets. The writer used a reed called kash with red or black ink, the formula for which is unknown today. At first the sheets were rolled and tied with a string; later they were bound together like the modern books. The rolls and sheets varied in dimensions. In many instances they reached a length of 144 feet. When newly prepared, papyrus was white. The papyrus that have come down to us are made brittle by age and are light or dark brown.

How Echoes Steer Ships

The fathometer, an instrument that measures the depth of water by timing electric echoes, guided the Leviathan across the Atlantic recently. This instrument enables the navigating officers to pilot their course as accurately in darkness and fog as in daylight and clear weather.

It is particularly valuable when approaching land, where knowledge of depth is most important.

The fathometer transmits electric sounds downward from the keel. The time required for return of the echoes is timed to a split second and is translated in fathoms of depth on a clock-faced dial.

How Tree Was Saved

Permission was given a business man of Upland, Calif., to cut down a stalwart old pine tree in front of his place of business because it obstructed his view. Just as the majestic monster, which had been growing in the same place before Upland was settled, toppled to the ground the radio in a shop across the street switched to another number on the program. The deep bass voice of a singer somewhere in the United States hurried this admonition to those who took the life of the tree: "Poems are made by fools like me; but only God can make a tree."

How to Make False Onyx

An interesting method of making a false onyx is by soaking a banded chalcid in dilute honey or sugar syrup, says Nature Magazine. The stone is then placed in hot concentrated sulphuric acid which chars the sugary material in the porous bands, leaving the white bands as they were originally. This dyeing is practiced mostly in Germany.

How Saint Compromised

"When in Rome, do as the Romans do"—originated in this way. St. Augustine, puzzled because they fasted in Rome on Saturday, consulted St. Ambrose, who said, "When I am here (Milan) I do not fast on Saturday; when at Rome, I do fast on Saturday."

Amphibious Spider

Water-spider is an interesting little animal which spins a sac of silk on a water plant, which it uses as a sort of a diving bell. From this it obtains bubbles of air, one at a time. Thus the spider is enabled to remain below the surface a considerable time.

Francis D. Andrews left on Friday to attend the bankers' convention at the Hotel Commodore, New York city.

Jack Miller attended a convention of radio dealers in Albany last week. From there he went to New York city, returning home Sunday with his mother. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Al Morris and Ben Miller, who returned to New York the same evening.

Walter Sarine of Narrowsburg spent the week end with his parents at Cragmoor.

The Ellenville High School boys' and girls' teams will journey to Monticello on Friday night to play there for the first time in four years. Both teams are members of the Catskill Mountain League. A good game is expected.

Mrs. George Longwell of Swan Lake, a daughter of Mrs. Henry Heath, who has been ill for the past three months, is somewhat improved.

Miss Helen Lauber spent the week-end at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Lauber.

Miss Belle Mazur, social worker for the National Council of Jewish Women, is spending a few days in town.

The work of the dental hygienist for the first week at the high school showed 42 defects out of 123 examined.

The scout masters of the village of Ellenville met in conference on local scout measures at the Terwilliger Agency on last Monday evening, January 14. Ben M. Taylor, E. Boyce Ter Bush and Herman J. Levine were present representing the three local troops. Howard N. Smith, chief scout executive of Ulster county and Frank Sprague, deputy scout commissioner, were also present. The general work and aims of scouting were discussed and debated, including the regular grade tests seasonal programs and scout anniversary week, which begins on February 8. During the evening, three patrol leaders, Morris Sokel, Henry Rothkopf and Jacob Levine of Troop Five appeared and demonstrated their skill in woodcraft and pathfinding toward the winning of their merit badges.

A CLEAR COMPLEXION

Puddy cheeks—cracking eyes—most women can have. Dr. F. M. Edwards has 20 years' treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave his patients a substance for calomel made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with oil, turning them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. Know them by their olive color.
These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system.
If you have a pale face, yellow look, red eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.
Thousands of women and men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—now and then to keep fit. 15c, 30c and 60c.

Senate Ready To Vote on West

Washington, Jan. 21 (AP).—Under an agreement entered into Saturday, the nomination of Roy C. West of Chicago, as secretary of the interior, was set for final decision late today in the Senate with Mr. West's friends confident of his confirmation.

Both sides had arranged to share the final two hours and a half of the late vote at 2:30 p. m.
Senator Blaine of Wisconsin was looked to by the Republicans independent who are fighting West, as Chairman Nye, of the lands committee, who has led the contest against the secretary.

Senator Glenn, Republican, of Illinois, who with Senator Deneen of Illinois, has waged the fight for the proposition.

Senators Nye and Norris, Republicans of Nebraska, have complained against West, particularly on the ground of his previous connections with the Samuel Insull Power Utility Concerns, in which he was an investor over a long period of years.

West testified that he sold his insul-lin holdings for about $118,000 when he became secretary last August.
The opposition to West is known to be resentful of the small attendance reported to have been present at the two sessions of the Senate last week when West's case was up for consideration. However, the sessions were confined to the closed sessions and no accurate report was available on the attendance or on the debate.

Durable Woods

Cedar, cypress and redwood are classed in the same durability group and have approximately the same decay-resisting properties. The decay resistance of these species, however, lies in their heartwood only; the sapwood of all of them will rot rather quickly when used under conditions which favor decay.

You might not be able to save it!

Market for Fruits And Vegetables

New York, Jan. 21 (AP).—(State Department of Agriculture and Marketing.)—Florida celery has commenced to arrive on the New York city market in carloads. Today's arrivals amounted to six carloads.
The quality was generally good and crates of 3 to 16 dozen stalks, in the rough, wholesaled at $3-$4, principally $2.50-$3.75.

Uprate New York celery was in limited demand and peddled out at $1-$2.25 per two-thirds crate. The stock was generally unattractive in quality. California celery brought:
$5-$7 per large crate.

Of the 122 carloads of celery received last week California contributed 116. The remainder originated in this state.

The market on western New York while Danish cabbage was steady.
Supply and demand were moderate.
Jobbing business was at $50-$55 per ton on bulk stock. Increased receipts of new crop Florida Wakefield cabbage weakened the market and values slumped. One and one-half bushel hampers realized $2-$2.25 on the best and $1.50-$1.75 on ordinary.

Texas spinach was plentiful. The market continued dull and sluggish.
Trading was slow. Sales on bushel baskets were at $50c-$1, chiefly 75c-80c.

About 150 carloads of spinach were unloaded on this market during the preceding seven days. Supplies were drawn from five states.
Mexico green peas comprised the bulk of today's offerings and the market was steady. Crates of 40-45 pounds changed hands at $5-$6.
Most of California's shipments sold at $5.

The market was steady on cut carrots from western New York. Supplies were moderate and the demand fairly good. Several carloads of muckland carrots commanded $2.20 per 100-pound sack. New crop bunch carrots were fairly plentiful. Crates of five dozen bunches from California wholesaled at $3.50-$4.50 and from Texas $2.75-$3.25.

California cauliflower was in more liberal receipt. The market was slightly weaker with trading only moderate. Sales were consummated at $1.25-$2, occasionally as high as $2.25, mainly $1.50-$1.75 per crate.

Fates Proved Unkind to Spanish Explorer

Capt. Pedro De Quiros long had been intrigued by tales of a vast continent in the southwest Pacific ocean and finally coaxed Philip III, of Spain, to let him go in search of it.
On July 27, 1605, at Callao, Peru, he drew a flourish under his signature, commissioning the captains of his two ships, and was ready to sail on "the discovery of the unknown austral regions of this South sea by the order of the king."

One of the captains presented himself, respectfully asking De Quiros to lay down a course for them to follow.
"Let her go as she is," returned De Quiros grimly. "God will take us somewhere!"

In the following year they sighted one of the islands of the New Hebrides group and De Quiros, under the impression that it was his long sought land, named it La Australia de Espiritu Santo. Followed sickness and discontent, the crew mutinied and forced a return to Mexico.
But not before De Quiros had caught a glimpse of a long, mysterious coast line, that to this day some believe was the Australia of his dreams. Another expedition was organized by him in Spain but on reaching Panama he died of a fever and there he lies, buried in an unknown grave.—

Nest of Three Rooms Required for Stork

A three-roomed tenement is built by the hammer-headed stork for the housing of himself and family. He is a native of Africa and in his construction work utilizes enormous sticks which he fixes between the branches of a tree. Any ordinary boy could creep into the lowest compartment.
From this a passage slopes up to another flat decorated with bright pebbles and bleached bones. Above this is the nursery, the walls of which are lined with mud to keep out drafts. A curious nest is the one the swiftest builds in Europe, and which is known to commerce as the edible nest of the Chinese gourmet. The bird builds in caverns around the coasts, and nest-seekers go with torches and tear them down and export them. It is said that edible nests to the value of $1,500,000 are imported into China every year.
The nest is woven from a secretion the bird produces—hence its food value.

The Straight Line Threat- ens To Become a Memory

New York.—With one of the best known furriers in Paris coming out boldly with the statement that straight lines are finished in fur-coats, one feels no hesitancy in forgetting their existence in dresses.
While it is true that many of the smartest frocks of the winter are straight the greater part of their length, they may be relied upon to bare or flutter somewhere from hip to hem, no matter what their material or material or what their purpose. The more tailored versions of flares are expressed by pleats, released at a low line, or by some-clever introduction of a godet.
While the prevailing evening mod-eys homage to Louise-boulangier, there are a number of dresses inclined toward modified princess lines.

and content with something far less ample than bouffant types so dear to Louise-boulangier. Contrary to expectations, the bustle silhouette has come through the social season with flying colors. It has been freely adopted and in many extreme interpretations, more often than not being taffeta.

Laces dressed by the very nature of their texture are seldom seen in anything but relatively straight lines, tulle and taffeta being the fabrics most often led into the newer paths in which fashion sometimes seems to be losing herself.
The lure of the lace dress is often directly traceable to its gracefully irregular hem.

OUR DAILY PATTERN

5336

A Smart "Household" Dress.
5336. Checked woven with factors of wool crepe was used for this stylish model. Pointed revers meet the coat collar in notches, and form a diagonal closing above a group of plaids. Slit at waistline is created by the dress. Which also is created at the side of front and back. The dress is fitted by shoulder darts. The right side is finished with a contrasting inset pocket. The dress is a two piece model. Printed velvet or crepe use the dull side for the body of the dress, and the satin side for revers collar, vestee and pocket facings.

The pattern is cut in 7 sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44 and 46 inches bust measure. To make a 38 inch size, will require 3 1/2 yards of 54 inch material. To face revers collar, vestee and pocket openings with contrasting material 5/8 yard 39 inches wide cut lengthwise is required. The width of the dress at the lower edge with fullness extended is 1 1/2 yard.

Pawtucket, R. I.—A sixteen-year-old blind girl in the high school here attends the same classes and takes the same courses as 1,100 normal stu-

She is Island Naomi Ferrarini and she has been blind five years. Principal Louis A. Whipple says that the girl, the first blind student in Pawtucket high school, is a student of the highest order.

Her success in her school work is largely due to her efficient use of the Braille instrument, which enables her to write everything she wishes in dotted letters, which she later can read by touch. The girl aspires to become a teacher of the blind.

SYNCHRONIZATION NECESSARY TO PERFECT ENSEMBLE IN- CLUDES THE COIFFURE

New York.—There is apparently no limit to the scope expressed by the term ensemble. From originally designating a dress worn with a coat of matching material, or with a coat lining as a link up by either color or design, it now includes everything one wears, including the hair in which one dresses ones hair. Every little silhouette has a coiffure all its own, and women seem conscious of the fact that the coiffure is part of the process of synchronization. The long back line characteristic of so many of the smartest frocks, is suggested by the coiffure which is pinned in the shape of the neck, a Greekian coil, replacing the clipped line which so often was cut in a well defined point. Although women remain loyal to the bob, perhaps more are influenced by its comfort than its elegance. Certainly the younger set are in the throes of letting their hair grow, and when it is not sufficiently long to coil in the neck, is caught and allowed to flare out in an amu-sant imitation of the bustle silhouette.
The hair is no longer sleeked back to a tight mannish effect but allowed to fall in soft lines which are a re-fection of the femininity prevalent in every detail of current costume.

With the advent of the tailored suit, one of the strongest predictions for spring, the hatted head may not be lowered in homage to long hair, but it remains the confident opinion of most that even with the tailleur, the bob will contradict or offset any impression that women are reverting again to boyish clothes.

That sports clothes are gone feminine, one has only to study the shop, dressy.

windows to realize. The omission of sleeves in frocks for southern wear is one of the details resulting in an impression girls will be girls in spite of the lure of masculine sports togs and their comfort as well. While sports clothes are being rather repressed, at least kept in their place, it is impossible to get through a resort season without many changes.
These run the gamut from pique and linen to tweed and to certain silks, notably those of the cravat persuasion.

Jewelry created for the express purpose of accompanying such costumes runs to architectural lines and is most often in metal. Chokers are a natural complement to the suit or sports costume and in consequence are the most important of all the jewelry forms. The "Calique" type, as matt and clear crystal effects are termed is important, while glass jewelry has a definite place in a wardrobe which admits linen, gingham, classical madras and the like. The romantic theme is again played up and all manner of semi-precious stones are used with originality and often charm. It still remains the fashionable to select one's jewelry in sets, earrings and bracelets being important.
The smart women's preference in rings runs to large ones, a single ring being preferred. Obviously with the growth of one's hair, comes the necessity for means of holding it, so that many ornamental barrettes and pins are appearing is therefore not surprising.

Calculated Franny?

A new way of avoiding paying for one's dinner was practiced in Paris recently, according to the London Morn-was presented to him he went off his nearest hospital under control. It is a matter for speculation whether the composition of the menu or of the bill was the cause of the diner's attack of franny.

WEATHER BUREAU GUARDS FLYERS

Hourly Reports Planned to Safeguard 14,000 Miles of Airways.

New York.—Hourly reports of weather along the airways are one of the needs of civil aviation. In this way the pilots may be immediately informed of any changes in weather conditions. Willis K. Gregg of the United States weather bureau told members of the American Meteorological society here recently.

"At the present time the established airways cover some 14,000 miles, with about half this distance lighted for night flying.

"Special weather service has been organized on all of these airways. This service includes upper air reports from about fifty stations at which pilot balloons are used in measuring upper winds and reports of surface weather conditions from about 150 stations located at critical points on the airways themselves. In general the reports are timed to fit the flight schedules, although there are now in operation two experimental services—San Francisco to Los Angeles and New York to Cleveland—in which the reports are furnished at frequent, regular intervals, both day and night. Thus all flying on these airways is served, whether on regular schedule or not.

"The reports contain information concerning those weather elements that are of most concern to pilots, particularly visibility, ceiling (height of cloud base), fog and storminess. These reports are supplemented by short-range forecasts for the next one to five to six hours.

Future Plans Outlined.
 "So much for the present status. As to future prospects, the plans that are being worked out for adoption as rapidly as facilities permit include the following main features:

"The extension of the twice-daily program of countrywide reports to a four-times-a-day program, thus making available general forecasts and bulletins at intervals of six hours instead of twelve hours, as at present.

"A supplementary system of three-hourly reports from small areas, 'secondary nets,' along the general airways. The receipt of these by trained meteorologists at airport stations will make possible the safeguarding of flyers from disturbances that develop some distance off the airways and approach them from one side or the other.

"Hourly reports from numerous points on the airways themselves. These will keep the meteorologists and others constantly informed as to changes that may be occurring along the line of flight.

"A prompt and dependable system of communications is the 'backbone' of the service. At present the teletype, or typewriter-printer, is being favorably considered for the hourly reports.
 Probably the telegraph and telephone will answer for the less frequent reports. Radio must be included for communications between ground and plane and will supplement the others when they are out of commission."

"Sawnee" Is Adopted by Geographic Board

ATLANTA, Ga.—The United States geographic board has adopted officially a method of spelling the word "Sawnee" wherever it applies to rivers, mountains, towns or counties placed on the official maps of the country. It was revealed at the office of Dr. S. W. McCullie, state geologist.
 In a letter to Doctor McCullie the board declared that it had ruled in 1921 that the word should be spelled "Sawnee" wherever it appears in place of "Sawney," "Sawnee" and "Sawnee" as the word is sometimes spelled.

The decision arose in the case of "Sawnee" mountain in Forsyth county. Recently a resident of that county informed Doctor McCullie that this mountain's name was "Sawney" mountain, although it appeared on the map as "Sawnee mountain," and although a station on the Southern railroad near by is called "Sawnee." This visit prompted Doctor McCullie to write to the board about the matter.

Arrangement of Hair Marks Chinese Wife

It is customary in occidental lands for a married woman to wear a gold band on the third finger of her left hand. Not so in China. You know a married woman in China by the way her hair is trimmed above her brow.

Usually on the night before the wedding friends of the bride trim her hair. It is sometimes clipped and shaved, but in most cases the hair is removed with two twisted threads.
 These threads are rolled over the forehead with the fingers, the twist of the thread extracting the hair and giving the forehead a square appearance. If you can imagine what you would look like if your hair above the forehead were removed, leaving a clearing of, say, four inches long and one inch wide, you will have some idea of what the Chinese married woman's head is like.

After the marriage this must be done at intervals to keep the shape present.

Quail Die of Thirst

Dr. Joseph Grinnell, ornithologist, of California, believes that lack of water explains the disappearance of quail in many parts of that state. He has made investigations and finds that areas formerly supplied with water are now dry owing to climatic changes and re-claimation work and have become uninhabited as nesting grounds for the quail.

Doctor Grinnell does not believe that vermin has accounted for the disappearance of the birds so much as the lack of water, as the species of wild birds and animals designated as vermin also have become scarce during recent years in the same area.
 Young quail which are hatched more than 400 yards from water and where rain does not fall or heavy dew occurs shortly after they are hatched will die from thirst, says a bulletin of the American Game Protective association.

Practical Wisdom
 As we understand it, the new idea in medicine is that $2 worth of preventive is worth more than a $300 operation.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Never Thought Any Medicine Would Help Her Like Nu-Erb Did

This Lady Declares It Brought Prompt Relief To Long Standing Illness.

Scores of local men and women are daily calling on the Nu-Erb man at McBride Drug Store, 312 Wall street to tell of the wonderful benefits they have received through the use of this remarkable medicine.
 Take for example the recent statement of Mrs. George Taylor, West Camp, N. Y. (near Kingston). "I never thought that any medicine would help me like Nu-Erb did," said Mrs. Taylor.

"Before I started using this medicine I suffered continually from indigestion and a distressing gas in my stomach from which I could get no relief. I constantly had a dull, aching pain across my back which I believe was caused by my kidneys. I was subject to severe dizzy spells, sick headaches and bilious attacks.
 I became extremely nervous and rheumatism developed in the joints of my limbs and ankles.

"Since taking Nu-Erb I am feeling one hundred per cent better in every way. My food now digests without forming gas or souring. I no longer get those dreaded dizzy spells, spots before my eyes or headaches. My nerves are stronger. I sleep better at night and the rheumatic condition has so improved that my joints and muscles are no longer sore or swollen."

Sufferers from stomach disorders, weak kidneys, sluggish livers, constipation, nervousness, headaches or rheumatic pains would do well to follow Mrs. Taylor's example

THE NU-ERB MAN.

and give Nu-Erb a trial. It is a pure compound of nature's own herbs, roots, barks and leaves so formulated to give quick relief to such ailments and help sufferers.
 McBride Drug Store, 312 Wall Street is headquarters in Kingston for Nu-Erb. Go see the Nu-Erb man now making his headquarters there and let him explain to you the merits of this remarkable medicine.

Now the kiddies thrill at an auto ride. You'll be thrilled too when you discover how easily you can own one of our dependable, guaranteed used cars.

(From an old Spalding print).
 In the Energetic Eighties the tennis girls wore their

TRIPLE ACTION

Ends coughs the MEDICAL WAY!

No other Cough
 Syrup has it!

Peter coughed and sneezed, coughed and sneezed—till "Triple Action" gave him quick relief.

"PETER is a delicate boy—very apt to catch cold.
 This winter when he started coughing and sneezing, we gave him Smith Brothers Cough Syrup.
 It is almost unbelievable how quickly this syrup helped him. He stopped coughing, his fever went down, and in three days he had lost his cold completely! We are certainly grateful to Smith Brothers Cough Syrup—it worked wonders with our boy."
 Mrs. ROBERT L. HIGGINS

Husband and wife ... both catch serious colds .....
 Both well in two days.
 "Triple Action" did it!

"WE had to visit some friends on a bad rainy day. When we got home that night, we both were coughing in chorus. My husband had fever and complained of a pain in his chest. I gave him some Smith Brothers Cough Syrup and took a teaspoonful myself. Right away I felt better.
 In the morning we continued taking Smith Brothers—and in two days we both were just as well as ever. My husband and I now both swear by Smith Brothers Cough Syrup."—Mrs. W. P. FROST

Smith Brothers Cough Syrup works so surely and so quickly because of Triple Action. This scientific principle does the three things that you must do to get a cough out of your system: 1—it soothes, 2—it is mildly laxative, 3—clears air passages. It has the famous cough drop flavor.

HAKOAH AND CLINTONS TO CLASH ON THURSDAY

The Hakoahs and Clinton Avenue M. E. Church team will meet in combat at Salvation Army Hall, North Front street, Thursday night. Both teams are coming along nicely and a fast game is expected to result from the meeting. The Clintons got away to a poor start in the Church League this season, but are quickly overcoming the disadvantage. They now hold wins over some of the best in the circuit and hope to scalp the Hakoahs Thursday. No team ever entered with a more determined spirit than the Hakoahs will have Thursday. This quintet will try in every way to get back on the winning road to set themselves for a second tilt with the fast stepping Y's Men. The latter team put one over on the Hakoahs recently, but a different story is expected from another meeting between the two teams on February 7. Teams who would like to book games with the Hakoahs may call the manager at 2519-J at 6 p. m. any day.

CLINTON AVENUE TEAM DOWN ALBANY QUINSET

The Clinton Avenue M. E. team defeated the Trinity Church five of Albany Saturday night at Epworth Hall. The final score was 31 to 22. Straight for the losers was high scorer with 10 points. The points for the winners were divided amongst the players.

Bobby Jones.

send the ball out. Finally he tore into it with all his power, smashing down on the ball as though he hoped to carry 30 yards instead of one. He knew what he was doing. He could not play over the tree so he proposed to play through it. This plan worked. The ball shot through the branches of the tree, sending a shower of leaves over the nearby fairway, and continued to the green, rolling past the pin and stopping 35 feet away. The rest was simple. The champion laid his approach putt dead for the par 5 which was just enough to win as Finlay took 6.

Sporting Champs Retain Titles Held in 1927

With all the leading sports from automobile racing to wrestling considered, 1928 turned out to have been a better year for champions than 1927. Out of a list of 234 champions for 1928, amateur and professional, team and individual, 81, or 34.6 per cent, are "repeaters"—champions who retained their crowns. The year before the percentage was smaller, being 25.61 per cent. Professional boxing whose champions are loath to risk their titles unless they are pretty likely to retain them, was a leading standpatter with only one title change in the entire year, while in such sports as golf and rowing very few of the 1927 champions survived.

Lloyd Hahn Scorns All Lures of Running Track

Farm life in Falls City, Neb., has a greater lure for Lloyd Hahn, famous middle distance runner, than the board tracks of the East. Hahn said so in a letter to Jack Ryder, his confidante and coach, at Boston. So far almost every track promoter in the East has invited Hahn to reconsider his retirement decision and to take every invitation. In commenting on these invitations, Hahn wrote Ryder that he had declined each one "because it would be next to impossible for me to get away." "It may seem rather strange to you," Hahn's letter read, "but I haven't had any desire to continue track work. In fact I am rather glad I am not running."

Cricketer Scores 200

Runs in First Inning
 Walter Hammond, Gloucestershire batsman, playing at Melbourne in the first English inning in the third cricket test match against Australia, completed a score of 200 runs before being dismissed. As he scored 231 runs at Sydney he created a world's record in international cricket by making two consecutive totals of 200 or more runs in test matches.

Red Shields Lost

The Red Shields lost out 23-31 to the Batavia Five at Mt. Vernon Saturday night. The home team did its best scoring in the last period. Smith with 11 points led the Red Shields scorers.

 SHELLACK HIGHLAND FIREMEN.
 The Highland Hose Company quintet received a 34-22 shellacking from the Roosa Firehouse Fire at Beacon Saturday night. The fire ladders could not get started in the game, which was a very rough exhibition. Gucker with eight points led the Highland scorers. Next Friday night the Highlanders will take on the Wanderers of Ellenville at Smith's Hall, Highland.
